

MONEY & TOOLS

Audit Your AI Subscriptions

The keep / cut / right-size system that recovers hundreds a month from tools you forgot you pay for - with a prompt that does the analysis.

Subscriptions leak silently. Find them, judge them, cut cleanly.

- 1 Find every recurring charge in your email and statements.
- 2 For each, ask: does it serve an ACTIVE workstream right now?
- 3 Label each: KEEP, CUT, RIGHT-SIZE, or DON'T-START.
- 4 One tool per job. Lean into free/native first.
- 5 Cancel with a firm email; dispute the charge if they stall.

That's the whole system. The rest of this guide walks each step, with copy-paste prompts you can run in one tap.

The deep walkthrough

1

Find them all

You can't cut what you can't see.

PROMPT · FIND MY SUBSCRIPTIONS

Give me a search plan to find every recurring charge I'm paying: the exact email search terms (receipt, invoice, your subscription, renew), where to look in my bank/card statements, and a simple table to list each tool, amount, and renewal date.

2

Run the audit

Judge each tool against active work.

PROMPT · AUDIT MY TOOLS

Here are my tools + monthly costs + what each is for: [LIST]. Label each KEEP, CUT, RIGHT-SIZE, or DON'T-START with a one-line reason tied to whether it serves an active workflow. End with my total recoverable spend per month.

3

Cancel cleanly

A firm, on-record request gets results.

PROMPT · CANCELLATION EMAIL

Write a firm but polite cancellation + refund email for [SERVICE]: request immediate cancellation, no further charges, a refund of the last charge, and written confirmation in 5 business days - or I dispute the charge with my card issuer.

RULE OF THUMB

Your most-used tool is rarely the waste. The forgotten one is. Hunt the forgotten charges.

GO DEEPER

Want this done for you?

This guide hands you the system. If you'd rather have it built for you, that's what I do: I find where your time leaks and build the tool that plugs it. No hype — just your hours, back.
